Maur Hill Academic building

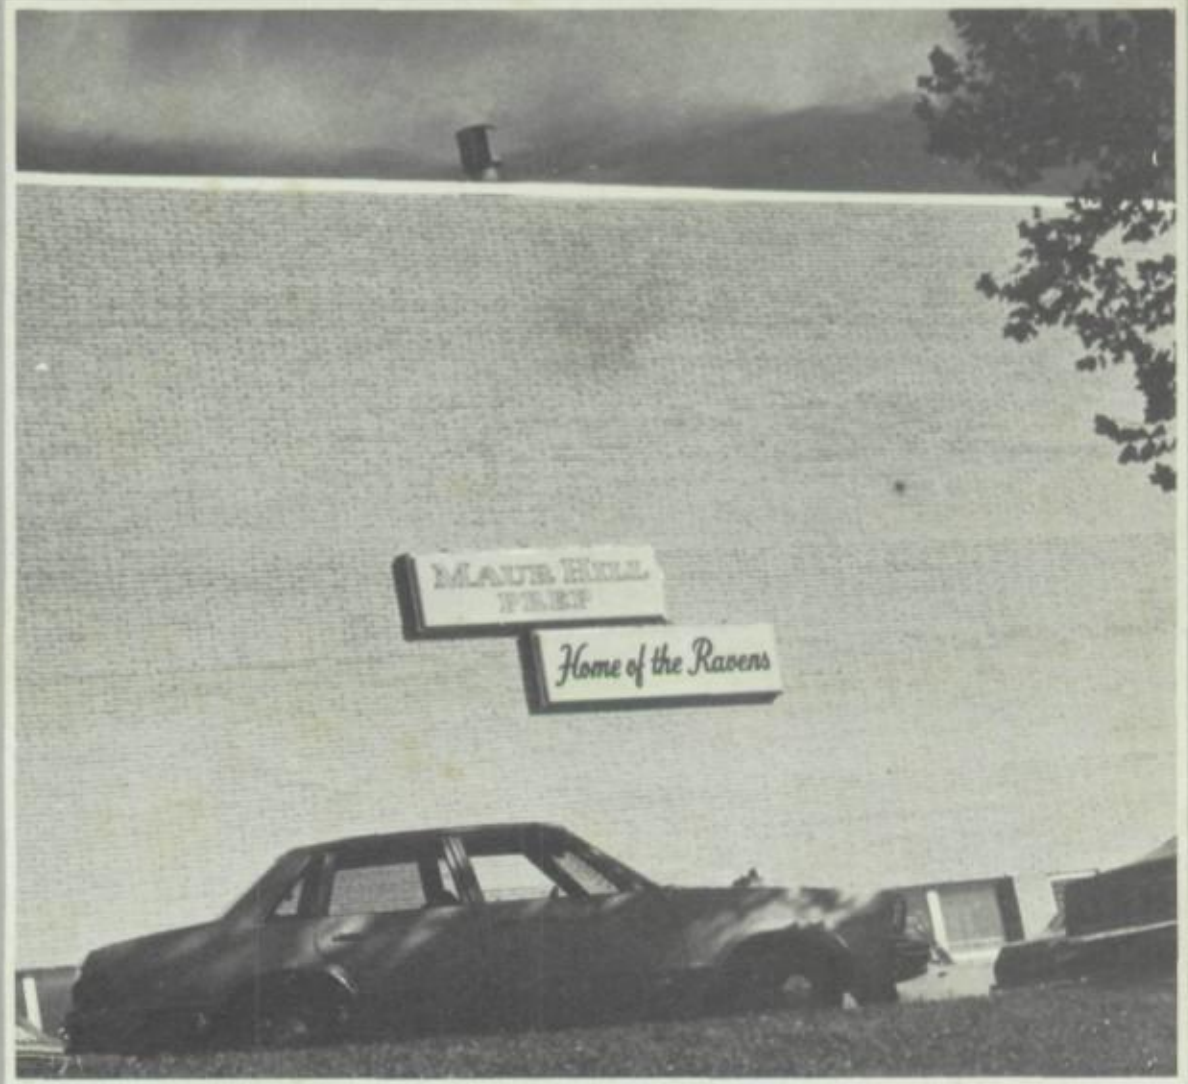

Inside looking out. (New Gym)

... Home of Growth and Maturity

St. Leo's dormitory

New Gymnasium . . . "Home of the Ravens"

Maur Hill entrance

Steps toward some good times.

Seniors Initiate Freshmen

Freshman initiation at its best.

Mark Hegarty and Tom Stec practice their air-raids.

Mounties take a "dip" at Warnock.

Mr. Andra chows down at initiation picnic.

Freshmen sing RAVEN SONG for the Mounties.

Friendships That Will Last a Lifetime

A friend to lean on. (Theresa Hart and Sheila Growney)

Goodtime Friends. (Andi Blair and Tracey Paolucci)

Look out! Here we come. (Jane Garrison, Becky Farrell, Lisa Grosdidier, Kelly Johnson, Rosario Del Collado)

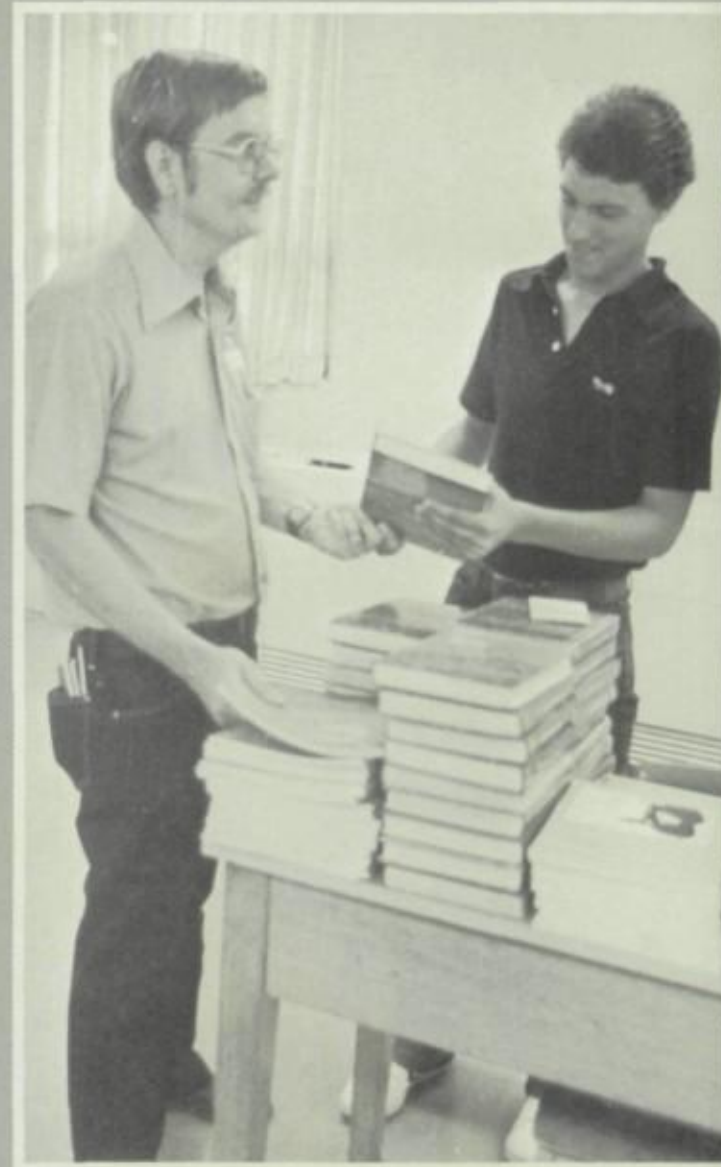

"Rick take a look at her!" (Rick Osbourn and Brian Arensberg)

Summer Ends and a New School Year Comes of Age

Mr. Stork helps David Sanders enroll.

What's this for? (Larry Hoffman and Mr. Shipley)

Mirror, mirror on the wall . . . (Jill Church)

Ed Stork prepares for a new year.

Tennis Court Dance Starts Social Ball Rolling

Tennis court dance really gets 'em hopping.

Tennis court dance gives freshmen something to smile about. (Rhonda Wagner and Mark Burkart)

The tricycle race really gets the tennis court games on track.

A few Seniors pull together to win the Tennis court tug-a-war contest.

Spirit Week Activities

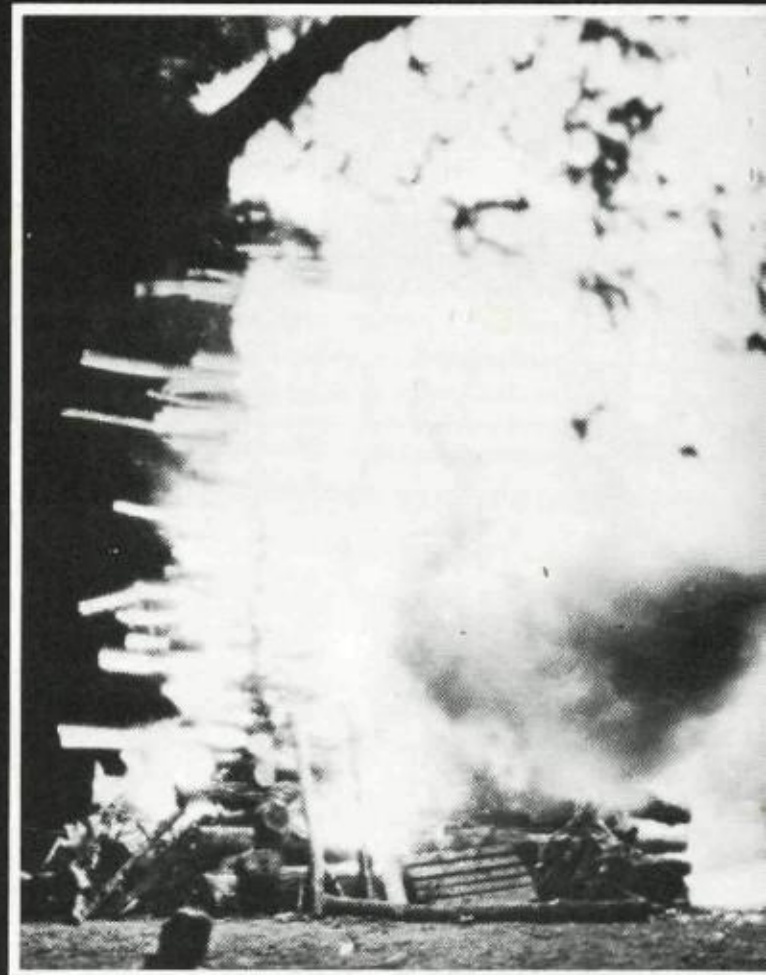

Theresa Hart and Larry Hoffman, ready to get hoppin'.

The Beauties and the Beasts. (Intramural Queen candidates and escorts: (L to R) Amy Burkart and Robert Weber, Mary Hagerty and Brian Arensberg, Mary Kelley and Joe Schuster.)

Gentlemen, start your engines for the wheelbarrow race. (Jim Arensberg and Jill Church)

The Towering Inferno...?

"What do we do now?"

Boost Raven Pride

Powder Puff cheerleaders show their STUFF.

Mock King Kurt Mangold I.

Larry Hoffman feels the pressure of the car pack.

1980 Inland Empire Queen, Amy Burkart and her escort Robert Weber.

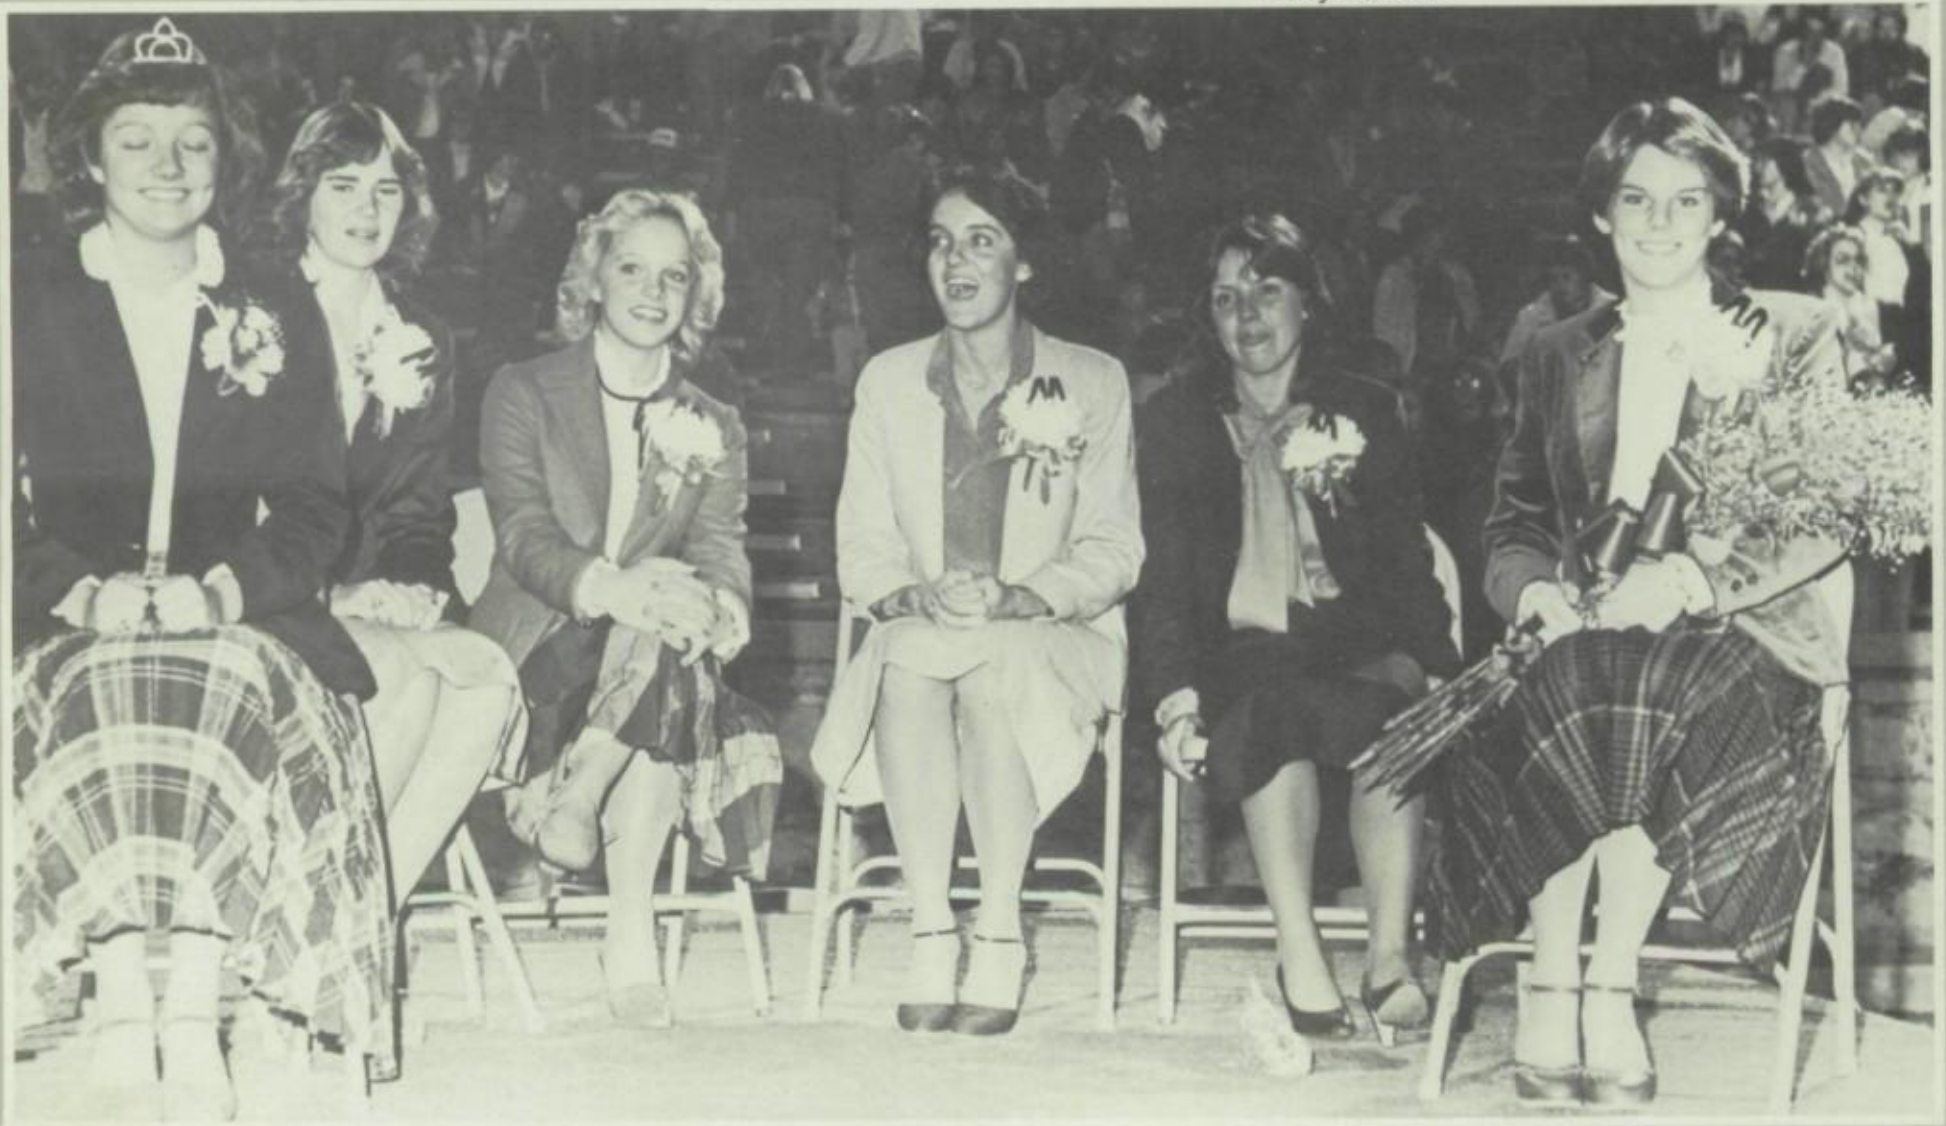

Homecoming Brings Ravens Together

Homecoming Queen Kathy Lasater and her father Jerry Lasater.

Bonfire Ignites Homecoming Spirit

Flames creep up the sides of the wooden structure.

A nice fire for a weeny roast.

Joe Schuster about to set the bonfire ablaze.

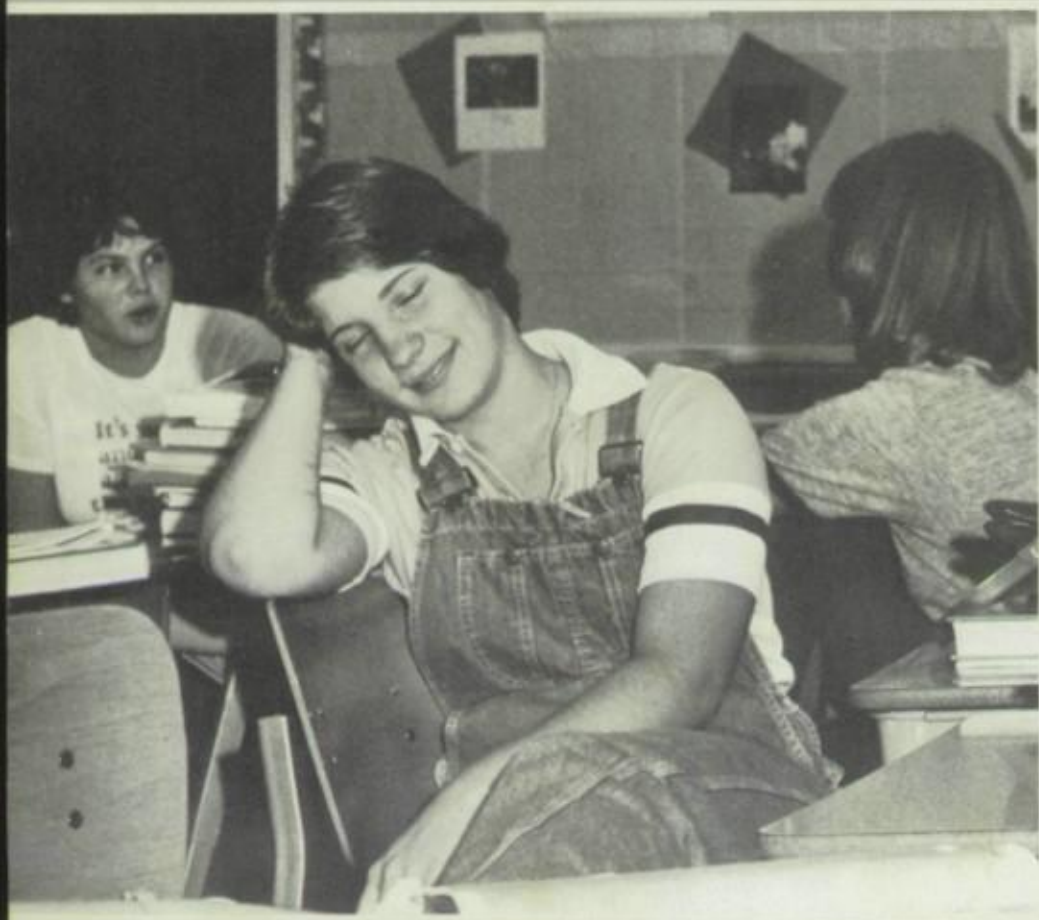

The crowd watches the blaze from a distance.

Mounties Enjoy Classroom Activities

Mount Seniors concentrate on classroom activities.

Thersa Stec after a night on the town.

Smile, you're on candid camera. (Liz Schuster)

J.V. cheerleaders do their "routine" in the classroom.

Maurites Thirst for Knowledge

There's the yearbook staff hard at work.

Brother John Peto's reading class turns some heads.

Ken Sonnenmoser gets prepared for another exciting class.

Alan Bindel studies intently as Terry Hagen gives us the evil eye.

Joe O'Keefe and John Christiansen find something to smile about.

Football Gets Intramural Games Off to a Rugged Start

Tom Forge launches the "BOMB".

The men in the trenches, the ones that make things happen.

Tom Moore desperately tries to catch the "fleet-footed" Dan Nass.

"Butter-fingers" lets another one hit the dust.

Each Day Brings Something New Into the Lives of Young Ravens

Oh Boy! Just in time for another great day. (Tony Fischer)

Well guys it's another Monday. (Ray Trotter, William Harbourt and Dave Weber)

Each new morning brings bright shining faces.

A smile like that can only mean one thing, but what is it? (Tom Brungardt)

Faculty Does Its Part in Building Raven Spirit

Father Barnabas tells Roger Levings that his hair has got to go.

World renown performer, "Max Travis" Guy Galley?

Father Edwin test drives a new 1980 luxury model.

Mr. Galley straightens things out.

Father Bruce spruces up the campus.

Seniors See New Beginnings

Well, we did it. They've been four long hard years, but we wouldn't trade them for anything. How did they slip by so fast? From 1977 to 1981 Maur Hill and the Academy played a big part in our lives. As Freshmen we stood poised on a new threshold and were both excited and afraid. We survived the signs, air raids and pigtailed initiation and went on to become the most spirited class in school. Sophomore year rolled on by. Our bonfire went down as the sturdiest one in Maur Hill history. Junior year marked a new maturity. Now we were upperclassmen. For our prom we "sailed on" to success. Senior year finally came. We had special responsibilities, but also special privileges. It was nice to be on top and to look out in the distance and see new beginnings and new lives. We'll never forget the friends we've made or the times we've had. These were the years and this was the place where we really did "come of age."

Senior Class Officers are: (Left to Right) Top: Don Miller, Vice-President; Tom Moore, President; Marco Jellinek, Secretary-Treasurer; Bottom: Debbie Giles, Secretary; Lisa Grosdidier, Vice-President; Kelly Johnson, Treasurer. Diane Noll, President, not pictured.

The Maur Hill, Mount Faculty
Help the Raven "Grow in Spirit."

Rev. Edwin Watson, OSB, President. Came to Maur Hill in 1953.

Rev. Barnabas Senecal, OSB, Headmaster, Alumni Director, Religion instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1966.

"The Raven comes of age through the examples and ideals made and expressed by the staff, faculty and alumni. The Raven matures through the dedication and sincerity of all the people at Maur Hill. Their efforts are our hopes for the future, academically, physically and religiously."

"Each one matures through the year, through greater knowledge of self and of the world. It's good to be part of the "world" in which the young man grows.

Some hopes are fulfilled — others are formed."

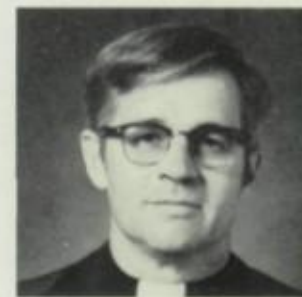

Rev. Thomas Flaherty, OSB, Dean of students, English and EFL instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1963.

Corinthians 13:11

"When I was a child, I used to talk like a child, and think like a child, and argue like a child, but now that I am a man, all childish ways are put behind me."

Rev. Martin Taylor, OSB, Dean of Foreign student EFL and Spanish instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1954.

"Amid the throngs of mortals that my being has come in contact with do I ponder the depths of what must be searched and thought out so that the essence of the Raven might give its cry: "A raven is a Raven is a Raven . . ." The process is unending, long and so fashions our society."

Edward Stork, Dean of Studies, Psychology instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1959.

It's a banner year.

Guy Galley, Director of Guidance, Athletic Director, Sociology Instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1952.

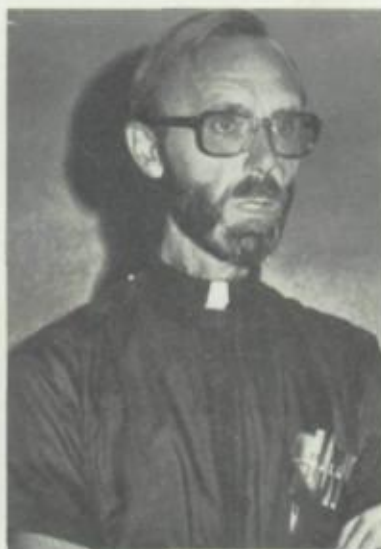

Brother Martin Burkhardt, OSB, Junior Dorm Prefect. Came to Maur Hill in 1972. "Boys at Maur Hill achieve a sense of maturity when they can have proper relationships with each other and develop a sense of selfworth for theirself and others."

"A Maur Hill education will hopefully allow each young man to direct himself toward the destiny intended for him by the Lord."

Rev. Bruce Swift, OSB, Chemistry and Religion Instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1960. "Being a combined boarder/day hop school the Maurite should have greater possibilities of social and spiritual maturity than purely day schools, because of the closer association of students with religious faculty members."

Rev. Camillus Wurtz, OSB, Senior Dorm Prefect, World History and Geography Instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1954. "By being aware of what Maur Hill stands for, offers, and expects, and by interacting with one another, Maur Hill students come to realize their responsibility to self and to others. From this realization of responsibility comes the gradual ability to make mature and unselfish decisions, and to develop wholesome patterns of living."

Richard Andra, Math and Physics Instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1962.

Brother Lawrence Bradford, O.S.B., Math, Biology, and Computer Programming Instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1976.

"The mental gymnastics of math and physics concepts help the Raven achieve a higher level of mental maturity as the Raven comes of age at Maur Hill."

"The freshman arrives full of potential. After four years of formation he has hopefully grown into a mature young man, having begun to realize his potential — spiritually, intellectually, and socially."

John Flynn
Business and Typing instructor. Head football coach. Came to Maur Hill in 1975.
"The Raven matures by being able to accept correction and know that the person who is correcting you is only helping you."

Tom Forge IPS
Biology Instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1980.
"Ravens come of age like a tree growing, slowly, a little each day, with the sky
as the limit."

Abbott Thomas Hartman,
OSB, Math Instructor.
Came to Maur Hill in 1973.
"Maturity has many faces,
friendship, patience, faithfulness of purpose, willingness to achieve, definition of goals, and partnership of student and teachers."

Dick Hunninghake
English Instructor. Assistant coach. Came to Maur
Hill in 1979.
"As a southerner would say, Maur Hill gives you ma'r of what you need to prepare for life. A solid base for life is laid here."

Rick Shipley
Speech, Drama, and English Instructor.
"When I think of the Raven coming of age, I picture a young Raven ready to leave the nest. This period in the Raven's life is full of decisions because he has a strong desire to attempt flight."

Marty Gonzales
P.E. and Physical and Mental Health Instructor,
Head Track Coach. Came
to Maur Hill in 1976.
"A Raven comes of age
when he acquires the ability of self-discipline."

Rev. Ralph Koehler — OSB, Religion and Computer Programming Instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1975.

"Through emphasis in all departments that human maturity is rooted in the Christian concept of true freedom. The freedom that is a special grace from God which gives each Student the space needed for inner growth. The Benedictine way of linking discipline, growth and freedom." Elected Abbot of St. Benedicts Abbey Nov. 28, 1980.

Jeff Latz — Journalism, U.S. History, and English Instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1978.

"The Ravens particularly grow in stature because of the whole learning experience, be it social education, involving themselves in the school's journalism and other academic programs, through participation in sports, and because of their Benedictine religious involvement."

Jim Krone — U.S. History, Government, Head Basketball Coach. Came to Maur Hill in 1976.

"The Raven comes of age by learning very early to set goals and work hard to achieve them. While striving for these goals the student develops a feeling of belonging and a sense of pride in his school and his accomplishments. All of this helps the student grow spiritually, mentally, and physically."

Mark Van Dyke — Social Studies, Phys. Education and EFL Instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1978.

"As coaches we hope the discipline and physical condition we instill in our athletes stays with them as they "come of age" in the future."

Brother John Peto — OSB, Reading and Religion Instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1977.

"Boys come here as befuddled gangling freshmen and hopefully leave as men. Something that one could attribute to nature, classroom discipline, and spiritual growth of the soul."

Rev. Owen Purcell — OSB, Latin Instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1958.

"The attaining of a certain chronological age says merely nothing about the reaching of maturity. Physical maturity — yes; psychological-intellectual-spiritual maturity no. An individual comes of age when he can face the future and change without panic knowing that the promise of Jesus remains constant: Behold, I will be with you all days."

Joyce Dutton, Librarian
Came to Maur Hill in 1972.

Pat Forge, EFL Instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1980.

"The atmosphere here is businesslike, but there's plenty of support and help, too. The boys accept the hard work and discipline. They know that they are the ones who benefit."

Linda Stecher, Art Instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1975.

"The experiences in art classes help the students learn more about themselves through their creative expressions. This also contributes to their self-satisfaction and self-worth which grows during the maturing process."

Sister Devota Klament, OSB. Librarian. Came to Maur Hill in 1976.

"Young boys come as freshmen, wondering and curious. Through interaction with other students and faculty members, they grow and mature. Four years later, as young men, they are ready to face the challenges of life as adults."

Paula Amrein, EFL Instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1976. "In the calculated masses of beings that roam the earth, eventually, most do come of age. Maur Hill is not necessarily where it happens. Many students come of age long after they leave Maur Hill."

Brother John Kaighan, OSB, EFL Instructor. Came to Maur Hill in 1979. "The Raven comes of age, matures, through the daily experiencing life, especially of school life; in the classroom, on the playing field and court, at the dance, in the chapel. The people he meets in his daily life; family, teachers, fellow students, friends, strangers, God; all contribute to this maturing process. But he controls his fate."

Barbra Baumgartner, Immigration Work. Came to the Mount in 1975.

The Raven comes of age when all of us live with dignity and respect for all persons.

Janice Wisely, EFL Instructor. Came to the Mount in 1979.

The Raven will come of age when each student is unique — a special person who deserves our help in realizing his importance in work of making our schools a truly Christian community.

Henrietta Nowak, EFL Instructor. Came to the Mount in 1978.

The Raven will "Come of age" when it accepts the responsibility of representing the Mount and Maur Hill as Catholic and academic institutions. These schools should be shown in the Raven as places whose students are well on the way to being Christian and educated ladies and gentlemen.

How "The Raven Comes of Age" through my academic discipline: We work with students who come from different parts of the world and have the unique opportunity of leaving with them good memories of a constructive experience here with us. They return to their homes not only with an increased knowledge of English, but with some understanding of another way of life. We, too, have the opportunity to learn from them — and together we take a step towards mutual understanding.

To Mariannella with all good wishes for the years ahead. We enjoyed working with you. Sincerely, Henrietta Nowak

Students wishing to broaden their horizons a little found exactly what they wanted in the International Students Club. Composed of both foreign and American students, the Club strove to promote understanding and friendship between the two groups.

This year a greater number of American girls joined the Club than in past years. This marked a real step forward.

Activities the Club sponsored included ice skating trips, shopping trips, and informal fun gatherings.

Student Council Moderates

Student Council Presidents: Joe Schuster and Peggy Klebba.

Student Council Vice-Presidents: Larry Colucci and Karen Baker.

Secretary-Treasurers: Tobin Purslow and Sheila Domann.

The Moderators of the Mount and Maur Hill Student Council are: Sister Helen Mueting and Richard Andra.

The Academy Student Council chose "Take a Chance" as its theme for the school year.

The year proved to be a year of chancing and of succeeding. The Student Council began some new projects and revised some others.

The All-School Picnic at Warnoc was changed, a Senior Seminar was held, the Turkey of the Year Contest was held, Dark and Light Day, and Play Day were brought back.

The Joint Student Council of the Mount and Maur Hill held the traditional activities during Spirit Week.

Together, the two councils also had a computer dance, a country dance, and a couple of successful movies.

The Academy Student Council was under the leadership of Sister Helen Mueting, moderator, Peggy Klebba, president, Karen Baker, Vice-president, and Sheila Domann, secretary-treasurer.

Over the years the function of the Maur Hill Student Council has been to plan activities that the students can participate in.

This year the Student Council was in charge of the Big Brother-Little Brother program.

Student Council provided buses to away games and helped organize May-Day activities.

The Maur Hill Student Council was lead by Richard Andra, moderator, Joe Schuster, president, Larry Colucci, vice-president, and Tobin Purslow, secretary-treasurer.

Despite losing many talented seniors of last years state championship team, the Jr. Ravens of 1980 ended their season with a very respectable record of six wins and three losses. The season started slowly for the griders losing their first two games to Desoto and Sabetha. The Ravens bounced back by winning their next six out of seven games falling to defeat only to the 1980 state championship team of Hiawatha. Brian Arensberg, Pat Patterson, and Robert Weber had an outstanding season. All three made the All Big 7 League team on defense. Alan Bindle made Honorable Mention on offense, and Robert Arensberg made Honorable Mention on All Area team defense. Don Miller made the 1980 Atchison Globe all area team.

Cross Country Runs a Good Season

The 1980 Maur Hill and Mount Cross Country teams both completed their most successful seasons ever. The Maur Hill team, with team members Tobin Purslow, Marco Jellinek, Larry Colucci, Mark Buessing, Tim Wilson, Luca Jellinek, and Rob Schmitt, finished first in six of the seven regular season meets that they competed in.

They finished second in regionals, and, for the first time for a Maur Hill team, advanced to state competition. They ended their season placing 5th in the 4A State Cross Country meet, with Tobin Purslow grabbing the second place medal.

The Mount Academy team, led by Eileen Kelly, Shiela Domann, Liz Schuster, Kim Burkart, Terri Theis, and Karen Baker, placed well in the regular season meets.

They won the Big 7 League meet held at Maur Hill, and advanced to the State Competition, where they placed sixth.

The Tonganoxie Tournament of 1981 was the scene of a hard fought and spirited victory.

The skillful battling of the Ravens and the rowdy cheering of the Maur Hill supporters proved to be a winning combination in the drive for first place.

The Raven purge began with a solid victory over the Tonganoxie Chieftans. The next team that fell prey to the Raven squad was league rival, Hiawatha Redskins. This victory put them in the championship game against the Bonner Springs Braves.

It was the Ravens vs. the Indians again, and as usual they were sent back to the reservation as losers with the Ravens coming out on top, thus winning the Tonganoxie Tournament for the first time in twenty-two years.

Lisa Cummings starts another exciting freshman game.

The Mount Academy Freshman team showed everyone how it is done, by finishing the season with a record of 7 wins and 0 losses, undefeated. The coaching of Theresa Rizzo, the shooting and dribbling of starting guards, Liz Schuster and Audrey Bader, plus the rebounding of center, Nancy Noll and forwards, Rhonda Wagner and Lisa Cummings provided for a perfect season. One cannot forget the people that back up the starting players for winning is a team effort. The substitutes are: guards, Terri Thies and Mary Carol Keely, forwards, Karen Lasater, and Julie Christian, and center Becky Giles.

The Mounties display an aggressive defense.

The 1980 track season was highlighted by the state championship performance of Tobin Purslow.

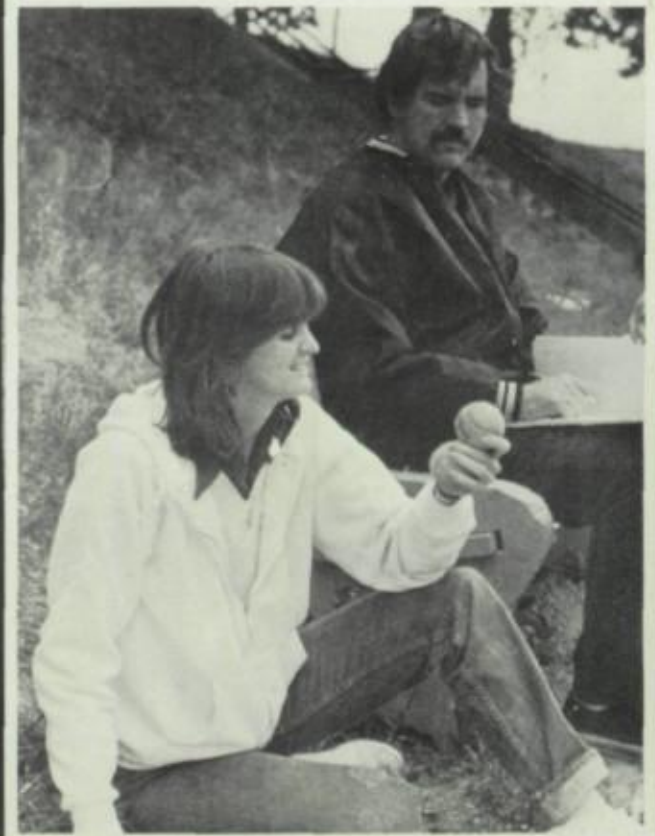

The Maur Hill junior, a three year letterman, was a consistent point winner for the Junior Ravens, competing in the mile and two-mile runs.

Purslow won the regional races which gave him the right to compete in the state competition. There he won first place in both the mile and two-mile run, pacing the Ravens to their best state finish ever.

Marianellita:

Gordita te ruego que nunca de los nunca me olvides porque yo nunca lo voy a poder hacer. Nunca voy a olvidar todos los momentos tan bonitos y divertidos que pasamos. Espero que me escribas y nunca nos dejemos de comunicar. Y ojala que algun día nos podamos volver a ver. Cuando vayas a México espero que vayas a mi casa unos días y te prometo que nos divertiríamos a lo máximo. Y nunca te olvides de la gordita, cachetona que tanto te molestaba en clase de Grammar con Mrs. Nowak.

Yo nunca voy a olvidar a la venezolana tan linda que conocí.
